

Sedalia's Airport Inspected

First Plane on Field Landed This Morning by CAA Representative

The first official landing of an aircraft at the new Sedalia Municipal airport, six miles west of Sedalia, was this morning, when William E. Miller, senior aeronautical inspector, landed at 11:15 o'clock. Mr. Miller came to Sedalia to make an inspection of the new air field, preparatory to the issuing by the Civil Aeronautics Authority permits to use the field for flying purposes.

Mr. Miller called Sedalia this morning and notified city officials he was leaving Kansas City's municipal airport at 10:35 o'clock and would arrive about 11 o'clock over the local airfield. Upon arriving over the field Mr. Miller circled his plane over the entire area, flew low over the newly graded runways, and then made a circle and came in for his landing at 11:15.

He was met by Mayor A. H. Wilks, the following members of the airport committee, and others interested in the project: Charles M. Van Dyne, T. H. Yount, Herbert Seifert, E. M. Stafford, Jr., Ben Robinson, I. H. Reed, Hugo W. Sparr, Jack Funk, Locke Bowman, and D. Kelly Scruton. Also present were Captain O. L. Viets and Trooper Lloyd Amos, of the State Highway Patrol.

Will Approve Field

Mr. Miller, flying a Fairchild M-62-8 two place plane with a hatch cover, landed on the Southwest - Northeast runway which is approximately 3,500 feet long. Upon climbing from his plane he expressed much satisfaction over the progress made in constructing the airport and assured the group as soon as the proper applications are in order, a warning signal placed and a guard for the field obtained, authority would be given for its use for commercial and training usage.

Mr. Funk, who has a contract for the field, to train students, stated he expects to have all maps, applications, etc., ready within the next two or three days, and have the field open for traffic Sunday, if possible.

The dirt runways were described as follows: Southwest-Northeast runway 3,500 feet long; East-west runway, approximately 1,200 feet long; South-North runway and Northwest-Southeast runway both approximately 1,200 feet long.

The Sedalia Municipal airport contains 920 acres, more or less, and of that number 180, more or less have been leased to Mr. Funk. The remainder of the ground is in crops.

R. W. Patrick, 20, Admits Killing Three

Accused Given Army Medical Discharge Recently

MACON, Mo., June 14.—(P)—Capt. J. F. Shaw of the state highway patrol said today Raymond Paul Patrick, 20, of Monroe City, Mo., had confessed the triple slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ross Foltz and their son, Ladwin J. Foltz, who lived on a farm near Hunnewell, Mo.

Shaw said charges of first degree murder would be filed today against Patrick, a former soldier recently released from the army on a medical discharge.

Patrick made a full statement to patrol officers and Monroe county officials, Shaw said, in which he said the killing occurred last Thursday night, Friday and Saturday.

Shaw said Patrick told this story:

He shot 20-year-old Ladwin Foltz last Thursday night with a shotgun as they quarreled on the way home from a tavern; killed 60-year-old Albert Foltz early the next morning with the same gun in a pasture on the Foltz farm; then he choked the 57-year-old Mrs. Foltz to death with a leather belt the following day near Farmington, Iowa, and stuffed her body under a culvert.

Shaw said Mrs. Foltz' body was found under a culvert southwest of Farmington in Clark county, Missouri, six miles from the Iowa-Missouri state line.

Earlier, Shaw said, Patrick led officers to the spot on the Foltz farm where the elder Foltz' body, a charge from the 16 gauge shotgun through the head, was found. A check for $164 drawn on the elder Foltz with which Patrick bought a wedding ring and an engagement ring at a Macon jewelry store led officers to Patrick, who was arrested at his parents' home in Monroe City last night.

The investigation began when Iowa officers found the Foltz car abandoned at Farmington with the body of Ladwin Foltz in the rear trunk last Saturday.

Reds Northern Front Active

LONDON, June 14.—(P)—Red army troops have advanced to within 30 miles of the important port of Viipuri, crushing Finnish troops resisting from strongly fortified positions, Moscow announced today and enemy reports said Russia's whole northern front from the Arctic to the White sea and Gulf of Finland was ablaze with action.

Finnish and German radio broadcasts declared the Russians were attacking in the Lissa sector between the Arctic ports of Murmansk and Petsamo, and Berlin asserted Soviet forces also were striking southwest of Narva in Estonia.

In addition, the broadcasts said, there was reconnaissance activity in the Kandalaksha sector of the shore of the White Sea; 550 miles northwest of Viipuri, and near Loukh, on the railway from Archangel across Finland to the Gulf of Bothnia.

Clark Gable Back In Civilian Clothes

HOLLYWOOD, June 14.—(P)—Although Maj. Clark Gable was back in civilian clothes today after 22 months in the uniform of the army air forces, he is still working for the army.

An official of the 43-year-old actor's studio said that an air training film would keep Gable busy until mid-summer. He added that Gable had no immediate plans for a return to the screen.

Leaving a $250,000 a year salary to enlist, Gable spent more than a year in England. He saw service in five raids, as combat photographer and gunner, and is now on the inactive list.

Germany Will Be Short Of Warm Clothing

NEW YORK, June 14.—(P)—If the German army is still in the field next winter, its soldiers will face acute personal hardships because of a severe shortage of warm clothing reminiscent of conditions in 1918.

The lack of wool will mean even greater suffering from cold for people in enemy-occupied countries while German civilians will run a close second, wool men said today.

Following the program there will be an admission dance, sponsored by the Elks, in Convention hall.

Dogs Disturb East Sedalians

The howling and noise of dogs running loose disturbed the sleep of East Sedalians, especially those in the southeastern section, Tuesday night, residents have reported to police.

It is said that many dogs are allowed to run loose after dark and in the late night hours yelp and bark to such an extent that a number of persons spend restless nights.

It was pointed out that the disturbances particularly bother shopmen who have long daytime shifts and older persons who are ill.

There is a penalty by city ordinance that can be assessed against owners of dogs allowed to run loose.

Allies Have New Base 880 Miles From P. I. Within Heavy Bomber Range

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(P)—American warships have turned their heavy guns on enemy positions from the Pacific Kuriles to the mid-Pacific Marianas, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported today. Battleships, cruisers and destroyers all moved in on Monday to bombard Tinian and Saipan islands in the Marianas where strong carrier task forces have been hammering at the Japanese since last Saturday.

By J. B. Krueger Associated Press War Editor

Big guns as well as a swarm of carrier planes poured explosives on U. S.-owned Guam and other Marianas islands during the heavy three-day strike against these enemy defenses flanking the Philippines. Tokyo radio acknowledged today.

Adm. Chester Nimitz, commander in the central Pacific, reported the carrier task force sank 13 Japanese ships, damaged 16 and destroyed 141 planes, but did not claim that surface ships bombarded the islands. Nimitz did not say, either, that the bold foray into Japan's inner defenses had been concluded.

He and Tokyo agreed that Guam, Saipan and Tinian islands of the group lying approximately 1,500 miles south of Japan were the principal targets.

This sea action and the mounting battle for Changsha in south-central China overshadowed developments on the other fronts. Chungking revealed that the Chinese desperately defending Changsha, key point on the Hankow-Canton railway, were holding their own. The defenders turned back an enemy attempt to cross a river east of the city and killed 300 Japanese in one sector.

Nearing the City

Changsha is besieged from three sides and the invaders at one point were within six miles of the city. The Japanese need it to cut off eastern China from the Allies.

Mokmer airdrome on American invaded Biak island off Dutch New Guinea is now in use by Fifth army air force planes, Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed. This meant that the Allies have a new base within 880 miles and heavy bomber range of the Southern Philippines. The field came into Allied use five days after the Japanese were pried loose from the dome.

MacArthur's troops continued driving westward on Biak toward two other airfields, Sorido and Borokoe. One infantry column was within half a mile of the latter.

In Geelvink bay, wherein Biak lies, cannon-firing Mitchell bombers sank four 1,000-ton cargo ships and three coastal vessels.

The Japanese invasion of India, launched with fanfare months ago, was fast receding. A ridge 18 miles from once-threatened Imphal was cleared of enemy troops, Southeast Asia headquarters announced.

Three other convicts who slipped away from the penitentiary farm Sunday and Monday still are sought.

Invasion Highlights

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, June 14.—(P)—American heavy bombers attacked seven oil refineries in Hungary and Yugoslavia today, battling their way through some enemy fighters to reach their targets.

PORT BOU, Spain, June 14.—(P)—Border reports today said the Allies were landing commandos and rangers, equipped with jeeps, light tanks and anti-tank guns, on airfields prepared by French Partisans deep within France.

The reports mentioned Plateau Millevaches, about 45 miles southeast of Limoges and about 80 miles southwest of Vichy, as one place where jeeps and light tanks had been put down. (There is no Allied confirmation of these rumors).

LONDON, June 14.—(P)—A Berlin broadcast said that U. S. bombers today attacked Budapest "and environs as well as several provincial places and industrial plants" in Hungary.

NEW YORK, June 14.—(P)—The German radio today reported "violent air combats" between U. S. bombers and German and Hungarian aircraft today over the northern tip of Lake Balaton, southwest of Budapest. The American bombers, with a "strong escort" of fighter aircraft, approached Hungary from the west, said the broadcast recorded by U. S. government monitors.

MADRID, June 14.—(P)—Reports out of underground France asserted today that a methodic, persistent rising by the greater part of the French nation is undermining the Germans' best laid plans to hold the Allied invasion.

LONDON, June 14.—(P)—Weather conditions in the Dover Strait area were excellent today, with a warm sun shining from a cloudless sky and visibility excellent.

A light southwesterly breeze rippled the sea and the barometer was rising steadily. The night was unusually cool, but by 8 a. m., the temperature had risen to 70 degrees.

VATICAN CITY, June 14.—(P)—Nineteen Allied soldiers and prisoners of war obtained refuge in Vatican City from the start of the war to the Allied capture of Rome. Archbishop Gustavo Testa, who has headed Vatican activities for prisoners, said today.

Two were Americans from a bomber shot down over Viterbo three months ago. Descending by parachute, they made their way to Rome and climbed the Vatican's walls at night. They were released when the Fifth army arrived.

LONDON, June 14.—(P)—The Polish Telegraph agency said today the Polish destroyers Blyskawica and Piorun sank two German destroyers in the English channel and damaged a third.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14.—(P)—Shaw said today that so far as is known not a single American merchant seaman has been lost in the French invasion despite a large number of merchant ships used in a cross-channel shuttle. Some ships have been lost, however.

Montgomery's Lineup in Normandy

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14.—(P)—Here is how Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's "first team" in Normandy lines up along the beachhead, so far as officially announced:

At Montebourg, 14 miles southwest of Cherbourg, the U. S. Fourth infantry division.

At Ste. Mere Eglise and Carentan farther south, the U. S. 82nd and 101st airborne divisions.

At Isigny and to the south, the U. S. 29th infantry.

At TREVIER and to the south, the American first and second infantry.

Bayeux sector, the 50th British infantry.

Between Caen and Bayeux, the Third Canadian.

Orne River sector, the Sixth British airborne.

Fifth Army Takes Junction

By Lynn Heinzerling ROME, June 14.—(P)—Fifth army elements have swung around the heavily-defended strong point of Orbetello, 71 miles northwest of Rome, and captured the important junction of highways No. 1 and 74; some four and a half miles beyond the town, Allied headquarters announced today.

Reconnaissance elements pushed still further north.

(This movement presumably blocked the retreat route of the Germans defending Orbetello.)

To the east the Eighth army advanced 60 miles north of Rome. Gains were made both east and west of Lake Bolsena and Allied troops were closing in on Narni, seven and a half miles below Terni and 43 miles due north of Rome.

The town of Latera, four miles northeast of Valentano, was gathered in by Fifth army units and the advance moved on toward Gradoli, less than two miles farther northeast.

Other Fifth army forces were closing in on Bolsena, on the eastern shore of the lake.

Received by King LONDON, June 14.—(P)—Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. army chief of staff and Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commanding general of the U. S. army air forces, were received today by King George VI in separate audiences at Buckingham palace.

Germans Defending Cherbourg Against U. S. Troops Counter Attack at Montebourg

By Wes Gallagher SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14.—(P)—The Germans have hurled four armored divisions into fierce defense of their eastern Normandy bastion of Caen — threatened with encirclement — and bitter street fighting is raging for Montebourg and Troarn at opposite ends of the 100-mile front, headquarters announced today.

The Allies both won and lost ground in different sectors but still held the initiative.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14.—(P)—The Germans have flung four armored divisions into fierce fighting to hold their eastern battleline bastion of Caen, the Allied command announced to night, and heavy fighting is raging at Montebourg and Troarn at opposite ends of the 100-mile front with both towns changing hands in the last 24 hours.

The savage German counter action on the eastern flank in Normandy followed a British drive 23 miles inland outflanking Caen from the west and the armored struggle is rising in intensity.

The four Nazi armored divisions were hurled into the area between Caen and Caumont, 20 miles southwest, in the hard British punch.

The U. S. Fourth division fought the Germans fiercely for Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of the strategic port of Cherbourg, and the great guns of the British battleships Rodney and Ramillies thundered in support of the British fight to hold Troarn, town seven miles from Caen taken in an outflanking drive on that bastion to the east.

Both Germans and the Allies have fought into and been thrown out of Montebourg and Troarn in the last 24 hours, headquarters said.

The greatest single striking force of planes in war's history — 1,500 American Liberators and Flying Fortresses — battered targets in France and Germany today in air support of the invasion.

Meanwhile in the Carentan area south of the bitter Montebourg battle, other Americans of the largest U. S. force ever thrown into fighting in this war chopped deep gashes in the Nazi defense of Cherbourg peninsula.

Smash Nazis Back

American armored forces there smashed the Germans back, and the Berlin radio acknowledged a withdrawal of several miles west and north of Carentan, with the doughboys thus apparently cutting half to two-thirds of the way across the narrow neck of the peninsula.

Headquarters said Americans fighting in the Montebourg area had to give some ground along the road to the sea.

"In some areas we continued our advance and in others the Germans had some local successes," the supreme command said in describing the whole battlefront.

The four Nazi armored divisions plunged into battle around Caen, Tilly-sur-Seulles, Troarn and Caumont included the 21st and 12th S. S. divisions. It was not known whether all the armor of these units was committed in battle, but all their infantry was.

The Germans said Caen itself was in flames and was being attacked from all sides. Berlin also reported Allied armored thrusts south of Caumont.

Squeeze on Caen

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery launched a squeeze on Caen with his thrusts reaching 23 miles inland into the area southwest of the big anchor city.

Striking as he often did against Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in the African desert, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, the Allied ground commander, sent tanks rumbling south of Bayeux along the central sector of the front. They smashed through Caumont and Villers-Bocage, then turned east and north to drive savagely into the German flank protecting Caen on the west.

Caen itself was under heavy naval bombardment from Allied war ships. A flier who flew over the city said it seemed "scarcely possible for life to exist there."

Villers-Bocage stands athwart a main highway to Caen, 16 miles to the southwest. Caumont, seven miles west and slightly north of Villers-Bocage, commands a secondary route, also leading to Caen.

The British tanks struck with (Please turn to Page 4, Column 5)

Orders Were Cancelled for French Troops

Men Were to Have Landed With First Waves of Allies

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(P)—In the final hours before the start of the invasion of France, General Charles DeGaulle is reported here to have suddenly cancelled the orders of several hundred French officers scheduled to land with the first waves of Allied troops.

Reports from General Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters to the highest military officials here disclosed today that as a result cooperation between the French population and Allied armies has been impaired in the occupied Normandy areas.

This is true, according to officials who are investigating the situation now, even though De Gaulle finally relented to the extent of allowing twenty French officers to go along with the forces assigned to liberate their homeland.

De Gaulle's action with respect to the officers is said to be probably the most important new factor entering into the background of a proposed meeting between President Roosevelt and the leader of the French national committee here either late this month or early next.

Dr. Martin to Bishop's Rank

TULSA, Okla., June 14.—(P)—Dr. Paul Martin of Wichita Falls, a native Texan who sold homemade cookies and milk to finance his education for the ministry, was elevated today to a bishop's rank in the Methodist church.

After finishing in seventh place in the first ballot at the South Central Jurisdictional conference, Dr. Martin's support grew rapidly and on the eleventh ballot he won the necessary three-fifths majority.

He had been pastor of the First Methodist church at Wichita Falls, Tex., for eight years and previously was superintendent of the Wichita Falls district.

His election gives the north Texas district two bishops.

J. P. Bradshaw Speaks Here

Outlines Policies In Campaign For August Primary

Jean Paul Bradshaw, Republican candidate for nomination for governor, spoke in the circuit court room of the courthouse Tuesday night in the interest of his campaign, pointedly reviewing the platform on which he is running.

"While I have been on state committees and have done work in other capacities for the party,
I do not feel that the party owes me anything," said Bradshaw, who cited the fact that the political party which can realize the problems being faced and find a solution for them is the party which will be great during the next ten years.

The candidate for the Republican gubernatorial stresses that the old policy of reciprocity among party leaders, and the idea that candidacies for states offices are favors granted, will not tend toward party strength. "I am of the opinion that any man running for state office, and particularly for governor, ought to tell what he stands for and the program he advocates—the voters of Missouri are entitled to know these things."

Says Problems Economic Briefly but emphatically outlining the Republican program for economic stabilization of Missouri, Bradshaw pointed out that the state's greatest problems are economic.

"To stabilize our economy we must develop sources of wealth," he said, "and development of wealth is primarily an agricultural proposition, strongly supplemented by the inducement of other wealth in the form of industries into the state."

"Missouri's taxes have to be reduced by one-third in order to make the state attractive to outside industries and to make her rank with neighboring states," explained the candidate.

Touching on another popular topic under discussion, the alleged bureaucratic government, Bradshaw expressed himself as feeling that "the government can be brought back home only through the people's seeing the problem as one of 1944—seeing it as it really is today, and solving it themselves in the manner of 1944, not that of 25 years ago."

Bradshaw, traveling with a loud speaker system, is covering the entire state, filling three or four speaking engagements daily. His campaign manager is I. T. Curry, of Lebanon, Mo. Reed Grainger, of Stockton, who is working in the campaign in the Sixth Congress-sional District, was with Bradshaw in Sedalia Tuesday.

L. J. Harned, personal friend of the candidate, introduced him to the audience. Other local candidates for Republican nominations were also introduced.

GO! New Treatment
Gets Real Results

Anyone who has ever had Pin-Worms knows how tormenting and embarrassing this affliction can be, and how hard it is to eliminate the ugly crawling creatures once they get a foothold inside the body.
Millions of people—rich and poor, children and grown-ups—have suffered in silence with the miseries of Pin-Worms, and doctors have tried for years to find a way to deal with this pest. Old-fashioned worm
"syrops" usually don't work on Pin-Worms.
Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery (a remarkable drug known as gentian violet), a new and highly effective treatment has been hailed by doctors. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablets developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.
P-W makes it easy to deal with Pin-Worms. The small, convenient P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy the creatures. Don't take chances with Pin-Worms! Just ask your druggist for P-W, and be sure to follow the directions.

Prepare More Invasions

Eisenhower In A Grim Warning To Germans

By Howard Flieger

WASHINGTON, June 14—(P)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower served grim notice on the Nazis Tuesday night that more invasions of Europe are in preparation. "The Nazis," he said in a report to President Roosevelt, "will be forced to fight through the perimeter of their stronghold, daily expanding their dwindling resources until overwhelmed by the hopelessness of their position."

The report of the supreme Allied invasion commander, made public at Mr. Roosevelt's news conference, spoke of the drive into Normandy as "a mere beginning."

"Although the cross-channel landing operation was attended," Eisenhower said, "by hazards and difficulties greater, I believe, than have ever before faced an invad-

Issue Currency For Invaders

WASHINGTON, June 14—(P)—President Roosevelt said Tuesday night the invasion currency Allied troops are carrying into France was issued only after consultation with representatives of the French Committee of National Liberation. Declaring we don't want to cheat anybody, Mr. Roosevelt told his news conference the supplementary currency is intended to be used only until France can set up its own stable government.

The President said that representatives of the French Committee both in London and in this country were consulted along with the British treasury.

In a carefully worded, school-room-simple discussion of the money, the President said repeatedly the currency was issued chiefly because (1) there wasn't enough printed money in France to support the invasion, and (2) there was no established French government with authority to issue currency.

When such a government is set up arrangements will be made for dealing in fairness with everybody concerned, the President said.

Remarking that soldiers need to ing army, this initial success has given us only a foothold upon northwestern France. Through the opening thus made, and through others yet to come, the flood of our fighting strength must be poured.

"Our operations, vast and important as they are, are only part of the far larger pattern of a combined assault against the fortress of Germany by the great Russian armies from the east and our forces from the Mediterranean."

Breach Defenses

Eisenhower spoke of the breaching of the beach defenses of Normandy as "the first vital step leading to the decisive battle of Europe," and spoke highly of the gallantry of the American, British and Canadian forces involved. In a message to the troops, made public at supreme headquarters of the Allied expeditionary forces, he said the "accomplishments in the first seven days of the campaign have exceeded my brightest hopes."

Besides Eisenhower's report, President Roosevelt disclosed that he had received this message from Premier Stalin of Russia:

"The history of war has never witnessed such a grandiose ovation (as the French landings)—an operation Napoleon himself had never even attempted."

President Roosevelt, along with his report from Eisenhower, made public a statement from the foreign economic administration showing Allied progress in shutting off alloys vital to the German war effort.

The report brought out that vast quantities of manganese have been lost to the Germans through the Russian capture of Nikopol and Turkey's stopping of chrome shipments. Spain has cut down its tungsten exports and Portugal has agreed to suspend them entirely.

(Elsewhere in the capital it was learned that the United States has won an agreement from Swedish ball-bearing manufacturers to cut down substantially on their sales to Germany.)

The FEA report said that when the Balkan supply of chrome and manganese is cut off, Germany will lose its main outside source of those two products.

A reporter asked when the Balkan supply will be cut off and the President said as soon as the Germans are driven out.

Asked if the same thing applied to ferro-alloys reaching Germany from Finland and Norway the President gave the same reply.

You'll Like This One Best ... When You TRY THE TWO

Do you like to help decide questions? Then, here's the logical thing to do. To choose the one best beer, without scientific claims and arguments ... simply Try the Two!

First, try Muehlebach Pilsener.

Then try any other fine brew.

Now, you've tasted the right answer! The beer for you is the one you like best, after you Try the Two!

Isn't that easy? And, isn't it fair to leave it up to you? But, most folks who see how clear Muehlebach is ... and taste how good it is, say — "Here's the one ... MUEHLEBACH!"

SANTA ANA, Calif., June 14.—(AP)—Convicted by army general court martial on specifications alleging statutory rape, three other morals offenses, bigamy and larceny, Capt. Morrison J. Wilkinson, Jr., today had this to say to newsmen of his sentence to 30 years' imprisonment at hard labor:

"Pretty severe, I think, for a slight indiscretion."

Wilkinson also was ordered dismissed from the service. He was acquitted on four other morals counts by the court panel of 10 superior officers which reached its verdict last night after deliberating an hour and 35 minutes.

New Diseases Sweeping Over the World

Causes No Deaths, Has Been Mistaken For Other Diseases

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor
CHICAGO, June 14.—A digestive disease of unknown cause which is sweeping the world was described to the American Medical Association today by Dr. Hobart A. Reimann, of Philadelphia.

It has caused no known deaths, but has been mistaken for a variety of other diseases, including flue and dysentery. It is also wrongly blamed on food poisoning.

Its signs are loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, dizziness, aching abdominal discomfort and cramps. A person may have a few or nearly all of these. He may remain up and about or have to go to bed. He gets well in a few days, usually less than a week.

In Many Countries

This disease, said Dr. Reimann has been observed in the United States, Germany, Canada, England, Denmark, Australia and elsewhere.

All the physicians who have studied it believe the disease both infectious and communicable. Food, milk and water have been eliminated as sources.

Some authorities suggest the disease is airborne, and is probably caused by a filterable virus. That means that the infection is composed of particles so small that they cannot be caught in any filter, nor seen by anything except the most powerful microscopes.

To date the disease has seven medical names and one popular name, intestinal flu.

R. W. Patrick, 20, Admits Killing Three

had been visiting at the Foltz farm. Shaw said Patrick did not give any explanation of why he killed the elder Foltz and his wife but Shaw expressed the opinion he might have done it to cover up the angry slaying of his son.

Patrick and Foltz went to a tavern at East Hannibal, Ill., Thursday night with two young women and "had some trouble" in the tavern, according to Shaw's account of Patrick's confession.

Quarreled

They started home in the Foltz car, and began to argue about the high speed at which Foltz was driving. Half a mile from the farm, Foltz stopped and declared: "We'll just both of us walk home."

When Foltz stepped into the beam of the headlights, Patrick said he shot him. The shotgun, he said, was carried in the car "to do some squirrel hunting."

After stuffing Foltz' body into the automobile trunk, he drove on to the farm.

Friday morning he and the elder Foltz went to bring in the cows, taking the shotgun with them. He shot the elder Foltz and left his body in a clump of timber.

Afterwards he persuaded Mrs. Foltz to go with him in the car and he drove, mostly along side roads, beyond Farmington, Iowa, where he said he choked Mrs. Foltz and pushed her body beneath a culvert with a leather belt still around her throat.

He then abandoned the car in Farmington, hitch-hiked to Fort Madison, Iowa, cashed a $45 check made out to the elder Foltz and bought a suit, later returning to Monroe City by train and bus.

Iowa and Missouri officers traced ownership of the car to Foltz and began their probe which led them to Patrick by tracing a check for rings. When Patrick returned to Monroe City late yesterday officers were waiting to arrest him.

"great effect," the Allied supreme command announced. Fierce Counter Attack

A fierce German counter attack was made on British forces in the newly captured Troarn area in an attempt to blunt or cut off a Montgomery pincers coming to flank Caen on the east.

It was the old Montgomery tactic of attacking on the flanks to cut off a large force of Germans and take them prisoner or destroy them rather than push them back. On the western end of the Allied beachhead, now enlarged to a 100-mile fighting front, Americans used armored forces to break a deadlock at Carentan, six miles from the sea. The German radio acknowledged a Nazi withdrawal west and north of Carentan "to spare German lives."

This several-mile withdrawal would put Americans between half and two-thirds of the way across the Cherbourg peninsula at its narrowest point.

Berlin conceded that Americans advancing on strips of non-flooded land had infiltrated Nazi lines to the northwest of Carentan and taken "a number of villages."

A Transocean broadcast said the Nazis had lost Tilly-sur-Seulles, which several times has changed hands. The German high command claimed recapture of a number of unidentified localities, and declared Nazi tanks breaking into the beachhead east of the Orne river had inflicted heavy casualties. The Germans said Allied tank thrusts south of Caumont and near Tilly-sur-Seulles were broken up and destroyed.

The Allies, aided today by fair weather, already have seized a foothold in France of 600 to 700 square miles and captured more than 10,000 prisoners. Allied officers estimated 250,000 Germans are engaged in Normandy. Berlin apparently trying to picture Allied successes as due to overwhelming numbers, has placed the figure of Allied soldiers as high as 500,000. The Allied advance to Caumont and Villers-Bocage cut two roads leading northeastward to Caen, the strongest point still in German possession. This drive swerved southeastward from the Cerisy forest area.

In July. The attitude of the French chief and, as a result, of the officers at his command, also is given as the reason why President Roosevelt dealt at length in his press conference yesterday on arrangements which had been made for French invasion currency.

Officers Disappointed
Officials here say Eisenhower's reports show that the officers who were forbidden to go were extremely disappointed.

These actions of De Gaulle were understood to have strengthened the White House and state department discussion against recognizing the liberation committee as France's provisional government. It was to obtain such recognition that De Gaulle sent word he would like to see the president.

However, it can now be reported Mr. Roosevelt agreed to receive him primarily because he hopes that he may persuade the French leader to work more closely with the Allied high command for victory in Europe.

Actions which have lessened the chances for a successful meeting, according to highly-placed officials, include De Gaulle's criticisms of General Dwight D. Eisenhower's announced policy for administering liberated areas of France.

Gains in Rail Issues

NEW YORK, June 14.—(AP)—The stock market lost some of its bullish momentum today, but fresh buying in specialties gave the list a steady tone near the close.

Steels, rubbers, motors and other leaders of the "peace" boomlet earlier in the week fell back a little under profit selling. Ralls also hardened after a first-hour sell-off.

Stocks in the improved group showed gains ranging from fractions to more than a point.

Volume dropped sharply from the above-two million share levels of Monday and Tuesday to around 1,500,000 shares for the five hours.

Rail issues registered further gains in the bond market.

Weakness in Grain Futures

CHICAGO, June 14.—(AP)—Weakness developed in all grain futures today and trading was quiet, a result of yesterday's short covering which exhausted much of the market's purchasing power. Traders preferred to await developments in the harvest of southwestern wheat following reports that black rust was prevalent in west Texas fields.

Some liquidation in the wheat pit was caused by weakness of the July contract at Minneapolis. The trade in rye was influenced by the trend of wheat futures and at one time losses ranged to more than a cent.

WASHINGTON, June 14 — Across the Potomac, in the sprawling Pentagon building, General George C. Marshall, U. S. chief of staff, gives all credit for U. S. invasion success to the boys over there, their officers and to General Eisenhower. However, those who have watched lean, greying General Marshall close up during the tense months of the war, know how he too has worked, planned, dreamed almost every detail of the invasion.

Three years ago, before we entered the war but when everyone knew it was a certainty that we would, this columnist asked Gen. Marshall what chance there was of a British cross channel invasion. "Do you realize what it takes to land an army in France?" he replied. "It takes not merely ships and men — and naval vessels to protect those ships. It also means docks, warehouses, railroad terminals and freight cars by the thousand. But especially it means docks — some place to land. In the last war, we didn't have to worry about any of these things. The French supplied them. But in this war — he shook his head ruefully — "it is different."

As he talked, Marshall thought back to 1917-18, when he was only 36 and a captain. At that time, he performed a modern miracle of maneuvering — second only to that of the present second front. He worked out for Pershing the plan whereby one million men were transferred from the St. Mihiel to the Meuse-Argonne front. Nineteen railroads, 34 hospitals, 40,000 tons of ammunition, 93,000 horses, 164 miles of railway, 87 supply depots and 4,000 cannon all were moved up just beyond the German lines — and the enemy didn't even know it.

Cooperation With Eisenhower
A general in modern warfare does not ride into battle waving a sword. He sits behind a desk. And this time, General Marshall, instead of being close to the battle front, has done his planning from behind.

And unlike the situation in the last war, Marshall and his European commander cooperate beautifully. They are close friends. In the last war, General Pershing was in bitter conflict with General Tasker Bliss, the U. S. chief of staff; later with General Peyton March, who succeeded Bliss.

Today, Marshall and Eisenhower are considered Pershing's boys. He is strong for both of them. And every Sunday, before the war got too tense, General Marshall went out to Walter Reed hospital to chat with his former chief. Pershing still believes he can win wars and gives Marshall his opinion on various strategic problems. After each interview, Marshall rises and salutes.

"Thank you, General," he says. "Thank you, General," is the reply.

Note — General Marshall is one of the few chiefs of staff we have had who did not go to West Point. Due to the fact that his father was about the only Democrat in Uniontown, Pa., during the McKinley administration, he could get no West Point appointment, went to Virginia Military Institute instead.

Douglas for Vice President
When the nine middle-aged men closed one of the stormiest supreme court sessions in history on Monday, one of the first to scamper out of town was Scotch, sandy haired, infant prodigy of the court, Justice Bill Douglas.

Justice Douglas left for the Far West and his summer ranch near Pendleton, Ore. — almost as if a presidential bug was biting him in the rear and he was trying to flee from it.

Actually a vice presidential bug was trying to bite him — with the aid of well wishing friends — but Bill doesn't want to be bitten. Various presidential-makers, figuring that the vice presidency will be the vital spot on the Democratic ticket, have tried lately to build up the youngest supreme court justice. But he has shied away

HIT THE RIVET, SISTER

By Ann Pendleton

The real-life adventures of a society girl who goes to work in a war plant.

LADS AND LASSES

THE fat man's name is Willy. He is my partner now and, at last, I have a job that is almost all drilling. Only, alas, temporary. There are about 20 of us, "old-timers," "experienced girls" (did "experienced" once mean years instead of months?) that they shift around from job to job. Some day, when the Draft has captured the Lead-men, we will, I suppose, be "Lead-ladies" and our crews all-female. Not soon, I hope. Out where all those Sunday Supplement articles seem to be written, Women In Industry may be "better than men." Right here, I must admit, we distinctly are not.

There's Evelyn, for instance. Evelyn comes to work with a red rose tucked in her golden hair. She wears white shoes, rather dressy, and pastel-pink socks, and above her powder-blue flannel slacks she repeats the pink motif in a puff-sleeved blouse. Most of us, by super time, look as though we had worn our blouses for a week and had never washed our hands. Evelyn is always fresh from the bandbox.

Evelyn doesn't do a great deal of what you might call heavy work. Betty, on the other hand, is always eager to "get at it." She'll dash up and down from the stockroom, carry finished ships off to inspection, push jigs with the best of them. In spirit, she's right up in the top flight of workers. But Betty's hand, holding a drill-motor, has no conviction in its grasp. Betty's gunset assumes a life of its own and "goes and marks the rivet—mean old thing!"

THE attitude of the "fellers" towards us females is a mixture of exasperation and indulgence, usually with indulgence triumphing. We are not expected to like the broncos featured in the Pendleton rodeo each summer.

Nearest he got was a speech before the Free World association in New York this spring — a speech which some of his friends hoped would put him more definitely in the political public eye. In the front row at that meeting, just under the nose of Justice Douglas, sat none other than "St. Bernard" Harold Young, faithful secretary, political adviser and retriever of Vice President Wallace.

Loyal big Harold has already sacrificed his popularity with die-hard friends back in Texas but would sacrifice anything else he has to re-elect his chief. So, as Justice Douglas spoke, he looked down on Wallace's 250-pound sec-be able to adjust our dimples, get our sets loose from the squeezers, get paint-stuck nuts "started." The "fellers" live in a wonderful atmosphere of homage and appreciated superiority. A few of them—mean guys—will say, "It's your job, sister," but the majority are willing enough to help us out. They should be. Jim, six-foot, heavy-muscled, takes the wrench that ninety-five-pound Carol has been tugging at and, with a nothing-to-it air, turns the bolt loose. "Oh, Jim, aren't you wonderful!" Carol cries, "Annie.

Pete refuses point-blank to have a girl for a partner.

did you ever see any guy as strong?"

Heady wine, this.

"WHAT does you girls find to talk about all the time?" my partner, Willy, asks. I have often wondered myself. Except for the moments of actual gunning, when making yourself heard is nearly impossible, almost all of us are always chattering. We keep up a running commentary on the work we are doing: "Gee, look at that hole!" "There, them rivets is okay!" We keep up a more spirited commentary on the doings of our fellow-workers: "Say, look at Gwen and Bill, will ya? Looks kinda serious, don't it?" "Take a look at Harry.

retary, glaring up from the front row with an "I dare you" look on his face.

In the end, big Harold went away happy. The potential rival for Wallace's place got only a line in next day's press. The country never knew he spoke.

In his heart, Bill Douglas is wholly happy to hold his present office. Only 45 years old, he has attained the supreme court after starting his legal career by riding the rails from Yakima, Wash., to New York to study law at Columbia. There, Dean Harlan F. Stone, now chief justice of the supreme court, befriended him but advised him to leave school and take a teaching job until he could afford to pay his tuition. Douglas work-

Boy, is he burned up!" . . . "did ya hear about Anne being sick?" We tell long stories of our pasts, or of other people's.

Occasionally the story is so engaging that we forget to work, and stand, motor arrested in mid-air, but as a rule the narrative is broken with the clatter of gunning or the scrape of our files. "An' I was tellin' him . . . okay, all it (interlude for gun) . . . I say, 'It's your job, sister,' but the majority are willing enough to help us out. They should be. Jim, six-foot, heavy-muscled, takes the wrench that ninety-five-pound Carol has been tugging at and, with a nothing-to-it air, turns the bolt loose. "Oh, Jim, aren't you wonderful!" Carol cries, "Annie.

NOT, of course, on every job. It depends on what you're doing. And, to some extent, on whether you and your partner "click."

Willy and I "click." That is, we're not always at cross-purposes, both reaching for the drill at the same moment, never being ready simultaneously with our gunning and bucking. We have the same "style" in riveting: when I expect Willy to hit hard and short, he usually does; when I'm not sure of myself and want a light tapping, he doesn't misunderstand and give it a "blast." We change around, swapping gun and bar back and forth between us. Most girls, Willy has observed, don't want to change. "They think they're gunners, and (unprintable suggestions) they ain't gonna do nothin' but gun—never!"

Pete refuses point-blank to have a girl for a partner and, so far, has had his way. Willy says any man would rather have a "feller," of course. I inquire into it, and it turns out that one of the reasons female partners are considered a pain is that "a guy's gotta be always watchin' out what language he uses." As Willy's vocabulary is, to put it decorously, picturesque, I wonder a little what his remarks might be, freed of my presence.

terested in keeping Henry Wallace off the ticket than in putting Roosevelt on.

"There is no question how our electors are going to vote," Butler said. "They're going to vote for Roosevelt, but they won't agree to vote for Wallace even if he carries the state. The electors would throw Wallace's election into the house of representatives."

Butler went on to say that he feared the president was going to insist on having Wallace on the ticket. He added that some Negro editors had come South to see him to ask that Texas accept Wallace. They wanted him to patch up the quarrel between Uncle Jesse and Wallace. They thought this would be a fine thing for the country.

But Butler didn't agree. So it looks as if there would be a bitter fight between mild mannered Henry Wallace and the gentleman from Texas.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

Superintendent Jamison, of the state free employment bureau, received a letter yesterday from T. B. Gerow, director of free employment bureau, stating that men would be wanted in the Kansas harvest fields by June 25, says the Kansas City Journal. This is somewhat later than usual, and, although the crops are good, and it will take a large force of men to help harvest it, the season has been more backward than in former years, and consequently the registry books have not been opened so soon.

Charles E. Andrews and wife, of Boonville, have sold to E. R. Blair, cashier of the Sedalia National bank, and other gentlemen connected with the institution, the lots formerly occupied by J. M. Cannon's Grand Central dry goods emporium, the consideration being $16,000. It is the intention of Mr. Blair and his associates to begin at the earliest date possible the erection of a two story brick and stone business house, and have it ready for occupancy in time for the fall trade.

The wheat harvest in Pettis county will commence next week, and the prospects are that the yield will be above the average.

In another jug-handle game Sedalia yesterday cleaned up the series with Leavenworth, taking all three games from Cates' aggregation of "Old Soldiers." Sedalia now stands third in the league with Joplin and Iola leading.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Farmers Are Helping Win the War

Bert Childers, one of the best farmers in our county, was looking a little worried.

"Best hired man I ever had has just been drafted, Joe."

"Gosh, Bert—and with both sons in the service. What do you figure you'll do?"

"Well, I'll tell you. We farmers got together and talked things over. Some have more equipment than men—and vice versa. So we worked out a plan for swappin' men for machinery and machinery for teams. I reckon we'll make it all right—we always have!"

Maybe that's why Missouri's 'way up toward the top in increased farm production. Reminds me of the way Missouri brewers cooperate to see that wholesome, law-abiding places and that their reputation as beverages of moderation is so zealously guarded.

From where I sit they're co-operating the way moderate folks appreciate.

Five pints of fresh soybeans (cooked or canned), 2 pints cooked or canned tomatoes, 1/2 pint onion, chopped, 2 bay leaves, 8 whole cloves, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1/2 cup fortified margarine, 1/2 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, as desired, 1 green pepper, finely chopped, 3 cups bread crumbs.

Heat soybeans in their own liquor. Measure into saucepan, tomatoes, onion, bay leaves and whole cloves. (If onions are plentiful, stud a very small extra onion with the whole cloves to make it easy to remove them later.) Simmer together, covered 5 minutes. Remove the margarine, add the flour, sift to a smooth paste. Add the hot tomatoes and cook until creamy, stirring to prevent lumping. Add the chopped green pepper. Drain juice from soybeans into this sauce. Arrange alternate layers of soybeans, tomato sauce and crumbs in a baking pan, covering top with crumbs. Bake 30 to 40 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees F.)

Boston Red Sox Threaten as The Reds Skid
Dutch Leonard Helps Yankees Down the Am. League Ladder
By Ted Meier
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Boston Red Sox are blossoming out as pennant contenders in the American league while the Cincinnati Reds have hit the skids in the National loop.
The second place Sox chalked up their sixth straight win yesterday by beating the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 2, behind the veteran Joe Bowman. Meantime, Cincinnati dropped its fourth in a row as Ray Starr, waived from the Reds two weeks ago, pitched Pittsburgh to a 3 to 2 triumph in a five-inning fray halted by rain.
Dutch Leonard, veteran knuckleball flinger for the Washington Senators, extended the New York Yankees' losing streak to seven straight. Dutch rubbed it in by shutting out the New Yorkers, 3 to 0, under the arcs.
Sparked by Danny Litwhiler, who blasted out three doubles and a single, the first place St. Louis Cardinals walloped the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 3. Southpaw Max Lanier was credited with his seventh win of the campaign although George Munger relieved him in the eighth.
Trailing until the ninth the league-leading St. Louis Browns banged over three runs to beat the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 3, for Jack Kramer's eighth triumph. A single by Mark Christman with the bases full was the deciding blow.
The Phillies snapped a five-game losing streak by beating the Boston Braves, 8 to 7, in the second game of a doubleheader. Jim "No-Hit" Tobin twirled the Braves to a 2 to 1 triumph in the opener.
Three home runs, one of them by Dixie Walker with two on in the fifth, gave Brooklyn a 9 to 4 decision over the Giants as Ed Head registered his second win of the season.
The Detroit-Cleveland game was rained out.

Sports Roundup
By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, June 14.—(P)—Along with one order for tickets for the major league All-Star game, the Pirates recently received a request to reserve a hotel room for the buyer. . . This week's Red Cross golf show at Wykagyl, arranged on rather short notice, had more than $10,000 advance ticket sales plus $28,000 worth of program ads. . . Wonder how the no-tournament U. S. G. A. feels about that? . . . One reason for cancelling the open and amateur for the duration was the long and expensive preparation required. . . Slingin' Sammy Baugh turned in times of 18.8 and 12.6 seconds in the calf roping contest at a recent Abilene, Tex., rodeo. Football folks will say he always was handy at throwing that cow hide.
What Could Be Verse?
A couple of lines from a versified tribute to Jean Knepprath, 20 years president of the Women's International Bowling Congress, were: "So they got up a bowling club with snacks between each frame. But gradually the snacks wore off, as on they played the game." . . . And that probably explains why a lot of the gals continue to bowl.
High (School) Jinks
Bill Pierce, who southpawed Highland Park high school to the Metropolitan Detroit league title, accounted for eleven of his team's 12 victories and allowed just two earned runs in 72 innings for an E. R. A. of 0.25. . . Try to beat that. . . In Richmond, Va., Bill Hawkins of St. Christopher's school fanned 110 batters in 95 innings and Robert Chakales of Benedictine high whiffed 99 in 69 innings despite a sore arm.
Service Dept.
Eddie Waitkus, former Cubs' first sacker now in New Guinea, is worried about his old club's standing. "Every time we get a box score out here I have to sneak

Box Office Loses A $15,000 Decision
LOS ANGELES, June 14.—(P)—While John Thomas, Los Angeles, was coasting to a unanimous 10-round decision over Harry Teaney of Cleveland last night, the box office cashier was robbed of $15,000 by two armed bandits.

Two Hundred At Ball Games
A crowd of spectators estimated at more than 200 persons attended the second group of games of the Summer Twilight Softball League series on the Smith-Cotton diamonds Tuesday evening.
The thriller of the tri-game schedule was an 11-inning pitching battle between Cozard of the Missouri-Pacific Carmen and Thomas of Rosenthal's, in which Rosenthal's team wound up with a batting spree that brought the final score to 5-0. Softball games require only seven innings for completion; however, the ten scoreless stanzas necessitated a fourth extra. Neither team threatened until the last part of the game.
On the south diamond, Sacred Heart by a score of 10-1 defeated the Pepsi-Cola lineup. Pepsi-Cola, as in previous games, had a hard first inning, with their opposition scoring five runs in the start, and they failed to pull out of the slump during the rest of the game, even though they did some good playing.
In the second south diamond game, another good contest was staged between Company B, of the SAAF, substituting for the SAAF Officers, again unable to participate, and the Missouri-Pacific Reclaimers. The military gained the edge and came out on top with a final count of 2-1, The Reclaimers made their only run in the fourth inning. The soldiers scored twice in the fifth. The company has some fine players, many of them having been prominent baseballers when in their "civies."
Next week's schedule, also holding three promising games, is as follows: Officers vs. Sacred Heart, 6:15; Pepsi-Cola vs. Rosenthal's, 6:15; and USO, possibly represented by Co. B, vs. Reclaimers, 7:15.

CARE WILL SAVE YOUR VACUUM CLEANER

The appearance of your home, even the health of your family, may depend upon keeping your vacuum cleaner on the job. Vacuum cleaners are not being made today and repair parts are hard to get.

- TO KEEP CLEANER FIT—FOLLOW THESE SUGGESTIONS
- 1 Empty the dust bag after each cleaning. Once a month, turn the bag inside out and give it a good brushing.
 - 2 Don't run cleaner over pins, hairpins, and other metal objects. They can puncture the bag or damage motor.
 - 3 Keep brush free of oil, dirt, hairs, and threads.
 - 4 Adjust nozzle and brush. Brush should touch carpet and should extend 1/8" below lips of the nozzle.
 - 5 Oil vacuum cleaner according to manufacturer's instructions.
 - 6 Don't jerk cord from wall outlet. When not in use, wind cord loosely around hooks on cleaner handle.
 - 7 Use your attachments if you have them.
 - 8 If cleaner does not operate properly consult your dealer.

How to reline a lamp shade

Roll your own. Lighting benefits can be noticeably increased by relining existing dark-on-the-inside shades with good white paper. Roll the lamp shade on white paper, and pencil mark to cut. Fit this lining inside the shade and fasten seam with Scotch tape.

- OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT
- 1 Clean lamp bulbs and reflectors (unlighted) regularly with a damp cloth.
 - 2 Use shades with white linings that reflect light instead of absorbing it.
 - 3 Keep all lights properly shaded to avoid glare.
 - 4 Arrange furniture so one lamp serves two or more people.
 - 5 Always turn off lights in unoccupied rooms.
 - 6 Have eyes examined regularly by a competent eye specialist.
